Support

Allies

We are grateful for the unconditional support from prestigious allies, DLA Piper and Baker Mckenzie, who continuously assist our organization in corporate and intellectual property legal matters.

New Donors

This year, CPA Reynolds Moss LLC joined our cause. The accounting firm prepared and filed JCWO's tax declaration under a pro-bono agreement.

The National Oncology Center of Spain (CNIO) approved and donated the SH-SY5Y cell line human - Neuroblast from neural tissue, for the Molecular Diagnostics Program.

Programs

Cancer Immunotherapy

The Danish BCG vaccine producer of strain 1331, AJVaccines, reviewed and approved JCWO's clinical protocol -already authorized by the FDA- to conduct a phase I trial in 40 metastatic breast cancer patients, using ConvitVax with their BCG vaccine, for which they will guarantee the product supply.

Molecular Diagnostics

The number of beneficiaries continue to grow. As of date, 570 highly vulnerable patients have been benefitted with this program in Latin America. A new project is being developed to expand to other low-income countries of the region.

Internship

Internship

Interns from all over the world are joining JCWO to learn and impact the lives of those who need it the most. This year, 12 interns from countries such as England, Kenya, Nigeria and Venezuela, were benefited in fields like scientific research, project development, communications & design, writing skills and fundraising. We are proud of their excellent work and contributions to the organization.

New Content

Science Series

6 articles were written and published in the press room of our website on topics such as, molecular diagnostics, leukemia, HIV, solid tumors, leishmaniasis and breast cancer.

Social Networks

New and improved content was created for our social networks, with daily posts on Instagram, Facebook, LinkedIn and Twitter, as well as weekly stories, to share relevant news on health and the work of the organization.

EARLY DETECTION SAVES LIVES

EVERY 3 MINUTES SOMEONE IN THE U.S. IS DIAGNOSED WITH A BLOOD CANCER
#FightBloodCancer

ConvitVax has shown to be potentially safe and effective in preclinical studies, as well as in a pilot human experience.

In this #BreastCancerAwarenessMonth we highlight our commitment to develop an accessible #Immunotherapy to treat this disease, targeting underprivileged patients.

Fundraising

Grants

Our team submitted 118 grant applications to U.S. agencies, companies and international organizations, to continue the development of JCWO's programs, targeting vulnerable populations.

Crowdfunding

JCWO participated in a Global-Giving Accelerator campaign with the project "Molecular Diagnostic for 400 Patients in Venezuela". Despite being suspended due to the breakout of the pandemic, thanks to donors' contributions we benefited 147 vulnerable patients.

Every donation counts!

Anyone in any part of the world can access our profile through the most popular donating sites and support our work!

Transparency

We are thrilled to announce the accreditation of JCWO by the BBB Wise Giving Alliance, after meeting the 20 required standards of board oversight, finances, results reporting and fundraising appeals. This prestigious accreditation provides our donors and beneficiaries the greatest guarantee of transparency in our organization.

This year has been one of great adversity. However, our efforts were intensified to advance the mission of the organization and benefit the most vulnerable patients.

Our deepest gratitude goes to our allies, donors, collaborators, interns, staff and all the people who help us pursue this cause every day.

Together we are stronger and more capable of building a better society!
